

TEXAS ASSOCIATION FOR THE GIFTED & TALENTED

Speaker & Vendor Presentation Policies

Speaker Policy

- All presenters (including copresenters) are required to register for or exhibit at the conference.
- All proposals must be noncommercial. This means the information provided can be used by attendees without the purchase of any materials or products. Although it is acceptable to note the source of supporting materials, the presentation cannot be a sales pitch or a product showcase.
- All presenters are asked to contribute to pre-event marketing (i.e., social media posts, videos, and other promotional items).
- All presenters represent and warrant that all materials and content presented do not infringe or violate any copyright, trademark, patent, or intellectual property rights of any person or entity.
- All presenters have the authority and grant permission for TAGT to audio/video record the presentation, and to reproduce and distribute the presentation, including handouts and related materials provided by the presenter.
- All presenters have the authority to and grant perpetual permission to TAGT to use the presenter's presentation and/or materials, if suitable, for TAGT's commercial benefit through Responsive Learning, TEMPO+, or any other fee-based online course programming. This participation is voluntary and no remuneration is provided.
- All presenters have the authority to and do grant perpetual permission to TAGT to make, use, modify, adapt, translate, and make technically accurate derivative works of the Documentation; and to reproduce, and otherwise distribute the Documentation and any derivative works authored by TAGT (which shall include all relevant copyrights, notices, and marks of TAGT and/or its affiliates) via any digital, electronic or print medium in connection with its distribution of the online courses/materials.
- All presenters authorizes TAGT to use his/her name, likeness, photograph and biographical data in connection with the development of any online materials.

Vendor Presentation Policy

TAGT is dedicated to ensuring that our members and event attendees are provided with the highest level of professional development and training possible. In order to ensure a meaningful and unique learning experience TAGT, with membership feedback, has developed the following requirements for commercial companies or vendors presenting at a TAGT Conference:

- Any presenting company or organization with a commercial or financial interest in engaging with our members must be represented at the event as an exhibitor and/or sponsor of the event.
- Selected companies must copresent with a client currently utilizing your services/resources in a gifted education setting. This not only helps to maintain the integrity of the session, but also benefits your company by positioning you as a trusted resource in the gifted community. Copresenter must be submitted at the time the proposal is submitted.
- The collection of any attendee information including, but not limited to names, email addresses, and phone numbers is prohibited outside of the presenting company's exhibit space and/or other area determined acceptable by TAGT.
